SALISBURY BRASS BAND

REORGANIZED 1st January, 1866, on a larger scale than formerly, under the direction of its former tutor, W. H. NEAVE, who was also chief music writer and Band Teacher in Gen. Lee's army. He will be assisted in leadship and direction by his brother, Ed. Neave, leader during the entire late war of Gen. Lee's best and most favorite band, viz: 4th N. C. The Band is composed of the best members of the old Band, together with the best members of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps, who have moved to Salisbury from all points in the State to follow their respective vocations and continue the study and practice of music. This Band will be a permanent institution for all State and festive occasions, and will equal the best to be found in the world, if sustained by those desiring a fine order of Brass and String music; if not, it must go down after this year.

W. H. Neave is also agent for the celebrated Dodworth Brass instruments, proved and warranted to him, and by him to others; also, the most pleasing, effective and popular Piano music, selected by his friends, H. B. Dodworth and Kent Botsford, New York. For beginners, medium players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.

Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor, Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.

Salisbury has been selected for Musical Headquarters for its central position.

N. B. Mere letters of enquiry for musical information, but with no view to business with Mr. Neave or Band, must contain two postage stamps.

County Revenue.

The opinion of the Public Treasurer, that County Courts have no power to tax subjects named in schedules B. and C. of the Revenue act, but only listed subjects, has met with some criticism in those counties where the taxes have been all ready laid under a different construction of the law. The question is entirely a legal one, and as the Attorney General, the law officer of the State, agrees with the Treasurer, we have no doubt it has been correctly decided. At any rate, as the Convention has concluded to engage in legislation, it is better that the whole matter should be finally arranged by that body, than that a resort to the Courts should be had.

The status of the question seems to be this: By the Revised Code, the County Courts could only tax the land and polls. When the ad valorem system of taxation was adopted, the powers of the Courts were increased and apparently extended to all subjects taxed by the State. Some contend that the general words of the act extend the jurisdiction over schedules B. & C. of the Revenue Act. Mr. Battle, and the Attorney General, think not, because this construction is inconsistent with other provisions in that act. For example, it is enacted that a merchant may have his license on paying only the State tax; so with all other persons who pay under schedule B. Other inconsistencies might be named, but it is unnecessary. Now, it is a universal rule, that when two statutes are inconsistent, that construction must be adopted by which both may stand. This can only be done by confining the Courts to listed subjects.

Under the Revised Code, land and polls were only under the taxing power of the County Courts. Hence, the State tax on land was always light, because land, also, had to bear the county burdens. But while the capital of the farmer was lightly taxed, the capital of the merchant was heavily taxed for State purposes. Why? Plainly, because merchandise could not be touched for county purposes. The same difference exists now. For State purposes land is taxed ten cents on the $100 value, merchandise fifty cents. If Mr. Battle is wrong, and the County Court can tax merchandise, by the law, they must tax it, and in the same proportion as land. In some counties the county tax is double that of the State, so that, under this system, merchandise would pay one dollar and a half, and land only thirty cents, on the $100 value. In other things the proportion is greater than in the instance above put. Some County Courts, we are informed, have been so struck with the evils of this that they have deviated from the law, and made discriminations, not taxing all in the same proportion, as the law commands.

Without going further into the matter, we repeat that this subject of county taxation should be placed on a sure basis. The act referred to above, conferring additional powers on the County Court, was passed when a revenue act was in existence, framed on the ad valorem principle. The present revenue act is not framed on the ad valorem principle. It is the old ante-war law, with a few additions,—"incomes" and "distilled liquors" being the principal. It is not strange that clashings have occurred. It is important the law shall be certain, and just. Otherwise confusion, inequality and evasions will be common.

Who Oppose the President?

The answer is easy: Every original disunionist in the land. Let us look over the record of a few of them.

Thad. Stevens says: "The Union never shall, with my consent, be restored under the Constitution as it is."

Mr. Sumner, when asked in so many words, on the floor of the Senate, whether he would aid in executing a law passed in clear compliance with the bidding of the Constitution, replied: "Is thy servant a dog, that he should do this thing?"

Wendell Phillips said in relation to the war shortly after it commenced:

"No man has a right to be surprised at this state of things. It is just what we abolitionists and disunionists have attempted to bring about. I have labored nineteen years to take sixteen States out of the Union."

Ben. F. Wade, speaking of the Southern people, says:

"I am not one of those who would ask them to continue in such a Union. It would be doing violence to the platform of the party to which I belong."

Horace Greeley said:—If the slave States, the cotton States or the gulf States only, choose to form an independent nation, they have a moral right to do so. All nations have their superstitions, and that of our people is the Constitution."

Ex-Provisional Governor William W. Holden is the father of secession and disunion in North Carolina. His sympathies are known to be with the Radicals, and the whole tendency and design of his present course is to frustrate the President's policy.

And so on, ad infinitum.

"Oh! how the Sentinel would denounce Andrew Johnson, if it only dared to do so!"—Standard.

We shall never go so far, under any circumstances, as to "denounce" him as "one of the most elegant devils out of perdition!"

What the People Want.

We feel a becoming anxiety for the speedy and complete adjustment of all difficulties growing out of the revolt of the Southern States. We are sincerely anxious for the full restoration of harmony and confidence between the government and those States. But under the wise and magnanimous course of President Johnson, and the efficient administration of Gov. Worth in State affairs, our condition, in respect to national affairs, is not so distressing as some are disposed to intimate.

The Standard is laboring hard to convince our people, that we are a very miserable set of off-casts and out-casts, because the Congress has thought fit to keep our members out of Congress. In other respects, the State is fully restored. Civil law is exerting its benign influence over our people. Matters are going on in our internal condition about as they did before the war, except with respect to the altered status of the negro and the jurisdiction of the Bureau. Post offices and post roads are being established,—custom houses are being opened, the U. S. District Courts are being held—the U. S. assessors and tax-gatherers are among us, and, with the exception that Congress, without warrant from the Constitution, keeps out our Senators and Representatives, we are in the same relations with the government we formerly occupied. We should prefer vastly that our members of Congress were admitted. Yet, practically, what benefits could this confer upon us? What could they do for us, against an overwhelming majority?

If the Standard and the Convention will set to work to devise some plan by which a few millions of dollars more could be speedily brought into the State, for general use and circulation,—if they would devise some honorable scheme by which the people's pockets can be filled, by which they could pay their taxes and their just debts, then they would be entitled to claim they were public benefactors. Our people need money—they want the means to support needy families. How shall this be accomplished?—Instead of brooding over our political difficulties, why not try to help the people out of their pecuniary difficulties, which are pressing them to the earth? Our people want bread, want money, Congress or no Congress. That is the shoe that pinches.

Simple Justice.

We admire, especially at a time like this, a wise discretion in the expenditure of public money. The people will sustain the Convention and Legislature in the exercise of a wise prudence in this regard. But the people of North Carolina have not only shown themselves to be just, but magnanimous.

We, therefore, regret the failure of the passage of the resolution of Mr. B. F. Moore, directing the payment of the legal claim of Col. Wm. H. Harrison, of Wake, as a member of the Convention, but who was prevented taking his seat during its entire first session by extreme illness.

We know the fact that Mr. Moore offered the resolution from a sense of sheer justice to Col. Harrison, against his earnest remonstrance.—His own sense of propriety led Col. H. to object positively to the resolution. Yet, we think, with the views of Mr. Moore, he could not have done otherwise than urge its passage. We feel bound to agree with Mr. Moore as to the justice of Col. H's. claim, and we would suggest that, if the resolution is not reconsidered and passed, it might establish a precedent which may bear very injuriously, in future, upon others. Where a man has been selected by the people as a representative, and fails to attend to his duty from neglect, indifference or vicious habit, we hold he deserves no compensation and should receive none. But where a man is well known to be ready to perform his duty, as in the case of Col. H., and is prevented by Providential causes from doing so, his title to compensation, it appears to us, is unquestionable.

GEN. LEE'S CAMPAIGNS.—Much interest has been excited, throughout the South, by the rumor that Gen. Lee was engaged in writing the history of his campaigns in Virginia. A private letter from the General to one of the Editors of this paper informs us that such has been his intention, but his progress thus far has not been satisfactory. His letters, reports and memoranda were all destroyed during the retreat from Petersburg, and he is now compelled to rely upon his own recollection and such reports, &c. of his subordinate commanders as they have been able to preserve. Unless he can accomplish the work satisfactorily, he will not finally undertake it.

One thing is certain: Whenever Gen. Lee does put forth a narative of his campaigns over his own inprimatur, it will be received as history in this country and in Europe.

"The President and Mr. Seward have declared, over and over again, that the States must send members who can take this oath."—Standard.

The President has never, at any time, said any such thing, and we challenge the proof that he has done so. The President has prescribed a certain test of "loyalty," viz: That persons should take the amnesty oath and be pardoned. He has never, in any way, recognized the validity of the unconstitutional Congressional test-oath. He has declared officially that Congress should at once admit Southern representatives whose loyalty is unquestionable. What he means by "loyalty" we have stated above.

The Late Hon. George E. Badger.

The New York Watchman revives a letter of introduction to Judge Story, which was given on one occasion by Mr. Webster to Judge Badger. The letter was in the following brief and characteristic words:

"Dear Sir:—I present you my friend, Hon. Geo. E. Badger, of North Carolina,—your equal, and the superior of

Yours very respectfully,
D. WEBSTER.

There is an eulogy that will last forever!

"The true test of Unionism is, was the person in favor of peace before the close of the rebellion? Peace implied Union. It implied restoration, for there could be no Union without restoration."—Standard.

The ingenuity of the Standard is severely taxed to afford it the most shallow pretence for opposition to Gov. Worth, Gov. Graham and others. Its lame attempt to find objections to Gov. Worth, based upon his late message to the Convention, exhibits its spavined, broken-down condition, and the hopelessness of its own cause. Every shool-boy in the State, who reads the Standard, if any of them employ their time so profitlessly, knows that the real test of loyalty and Unionism with the Standard, for the last three years, has been, to support and sanction and fawn upon W. W. Holden. This has evidently been "its morning, noon and evening cry." But, finding that no sensible, independent man will abide by that test, it is at its wit's end, and finally blunders upon the above.

"The true test of Unionism is, was the person in favor of peace before the close of the rebellion?" Is that the true test, neighbor? Then every man in North Carolina was, and is, a loyal Union man. We defy the Standard to name a man, who was not in favor of peace "before the close of the rebellion." There was nothing, except their honor, that our public men and our private citizens would not have sacrificed for peace. From the time of Gov. Graham's debut into the C. S. Senate, he entered every open door and employed every effort, which accorded with his own views of propriety, to arrest hostilities at the earliest possible period. Josiah Turner, jr., and others, were ever ready to second those efforts. No man in the State more desired peace than Gov. Vance. Gov. Worth is known to have endorsed every feasible proposition to terminate the war at the earliest period. All of them differed with the policy of Mr. Davis in his administration of affairs. All of them believed that Mr. Davis should have given a liberal discretion to the Fortress Monroe Commissioners to end the war, and stood ready to give their sanction to any just proposition, on the part of Mr. Lincoln. We may go so far as to affirm, without fear of contradiction, that every one of them would have embraced gladly the settlement which Mr. Stevens, Mr. Campbell and Mr. Hunter believed could have been effected at that time. They doubtless believed that Mr. Davis erred in judgment in this matter. But they could not forget the courtesy due to Mr. Davis' position, as the chosen Executive, in civil and military matters, of the then Confederate States. They could not ignore the fact, that, as good citizens, they were bound to obey the laws and the authority of the de facto government, and to submit to that authority, when remonstrance could accomplish nothing. They were not at liberty, as gentlemen and good citizens, to denounce and villify the chief ruler, because they differed with him.

And will W. W. Holden, the chief, the head and front, of secession in North Carolina,—the man who taught our young and old men secession,—the man who has broken faith with every party, and abused every body who differed with him,—set up his claims as a Union man, a peace man, a loyal man to the government, against such men as he now denounces as secessionists and war men? Is it not the height of impudence and assumption, for the editor of the Standard, and those who sympathise with his views, to set Mr. Holden, as a loyal man and a Union man par excellence, against such men as Jonathan Worth, Wm. A. Graham, and others?

Confederate Dead at Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville, Kentucky.

Mr. W. R. Hunter, "the Children's Friend," who is now lecturing in Kentucky, sends us the following names of Confederate dead from N. C., buried in Cave Hill Cemetery, Louisville.—He also states, what no doubt will be consoling to the friends of those buried there, that, on the 26th of April last, the ladies of Louisville decked all the graves (275) with flowers and wreaths.

THE Standard's pretensions to be the general and exclusive fugleman of the true and genuine Union sentiment of the South is based on the same substantial footing as the Proclamation of the Saints:

Resolved, That the offices belong, of right, to the Saints.

Resolved, That we are the Saints.

OUR TELEGRAPHIC columns exhibit Thad. Stevens' latest move. The attention of those members of the Convention and others, who are anxious to learn what Congress yet requires at the hands of North Carolina, and of the South generally, in order to restoration, is invited to the telegram in question.

"He (the President) has no use for original secessionists."—Standard.

This is a virtual admission, on the part of the Standard, that, as we have repeatedly insisted, the Ex P. G. has lost all influence with President Johnson.

FREEDMEN'S BUREAU AFFAIRS.—A significant fact connected with the management of the Freedmen's Bureau has just come to light. It seems that General Howard has addressed a communication to the President, apologizing for his letter recently published in New York in defence of the officers of the Bureau in the Southern States. His excuse for its publication was that it was written hastily and before his knowledge of the facts set forth in the Steedman and Fullerton report. His confidence in General Fullerton is such that he is now compelled to believe these charges have much foundation in fact.—Cor. N. Y. Herald.

Thad. Stevens would consign the whole South to the "Penitentiary of Hell." This figure of speech shows the magnanimity and large heartedness of Thad.—he would take the South to—his own bosom.—N. Y. World.

STATE CONVENTION.

ADJOURNED SESSION.

TUESDAY, May 29th, 1866.

The Convention was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Skinner, of the Baptist Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Mebane introduced a resolution to grant the use of the Hall of the House of Commons to the Young Men's Christian Association of Raleigh, on the evening of the 31st inst. Adopted under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Pearsall, a resolution for the relief of the people by suspending the collection of taxes.

On motion of Mr. Jones, of Davidson, a resolution in relation to salaries and fees, introduced on yesterday, was taken up and adopted.

Pursuant to this resolution, the President appointed the following committee, viz: Messrs. Jones, of Davidson, Grissom, Harris, of Guilford, Gahagan and Bingham.

Mr. Dockery introduced a resolution to raise a committee of five to enquire into the expediency of selling the charter of the Western N. C. Railroad Company to any Company that will contract to build the same to Cleaveland, Tennessee.

On motion of Mr. Love, the rule was suspended and the resolution was amended by increasing the number of the proposed committee to seven.

The resolution was further amended, on motion of Mr. Patterson, by inserting after the word "Cleaveland," the words "or such other point in Tennessee as may be deemed expedient."

The resolution, as amended, was then adopted, as amended, and the President appointed the following Committee, viz:

Messrs. Dockery, Patterson, Caldwell, of Burke, Eaton, Brown, Ferebee and Buxton.

Mr. McIvor, from the Committee on Magistrates, reported "an ordinance to appoint Magistrates and limit the number of the same."

Mr. Garland, for a minority of said committee, reported an ordinance of like title, providing for the election of magistrates by the people.

Mr. Logan, a resolution for the relief of the people of Rutherford and Polk. (Proposes to authorize a loan from the Treasury of $2,000 to the County of Rutherford, and $1,000 to the County of Polk.)

Mr. McRae, an ordinance to ratify and confirm the transfer of the Fayetteville and Western Plankroad to the Counties of Cumberland, Harnett, Moore and Randolph.

Mr. King, an ordinance extending the time for the settlement of public taxes by the Sheriffs and tax collectors of the State. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The Convention proceeded to consider the "ordinance concerning debts of the State to be contracted hereafter" on its 2nd. reading.

The question pending at the time of adjournment on yesterday, was on the amendment offered by Mr. Love, excluding from the operation of the ordinance, "works of internal improvement already chartered, or in progress of construction."

Mr. Moore, of Wake, opposed the amendment, because it proposed that a minority should rule a majority, and virtually control all appropriations from the public treasury for works of internal improvement. As the law stands at present, it was in the power of one-fourth of the representatives of the people to saddle them with a debt without regard to their wishes.

Mr. Love urged the adoption of the amendment. He was opposed to the ordinance, without the proviso, because of its retrospective action. He did not think it just or politic to impose such restrictions upon roads already chartered; but was willing they should be applied to grants of future charters. Had such requirement been made heretofore, but few appropriations would have been made for internal improvements.

YEAS.—Messrs. Alexander, Bingham, Burgin, Bynum, Caldwell, of Burke, Dockery, Ellis, Furches, Garrett, Harris, of Rutherford, Harrison, Henry, Logan, Love, of Jackson, McDonald, of Moore, McRae, Patterson, Sloan, Smith, of Wilkes, Stewart and Swan.—21.

NAYS.—Messrs. Adams, Allen, Bagley, Baines, Baker, Barrow, Beam, Bell, Berry, Bradley, Brickell, Brown, Bryan, Buxton, Caldwell, of Guilford, Clark, Cowper, Dick, Dickey, Eaton, Faircloth, Faulkner, Ferebee, Gahagan, Gilliam, Godwin, Grissom, Harris, of Guilford, Haynes, Hodge, Jackson, Jarvis, Johnston, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyce, Joyner, King, Lash, Love, of Chatham, Lyon, McCauley, McKoy, of Sampson, McKay, of Harnett, McDonald, of Chatham, McIvor, N. A. McLean, Nat. McLean, McLaughlin, Mebane, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Murphy, Odom, Pearsall, Perkins, Person, Polk, Pool, Richardson, Rumley, Russell, Satterthwaite, Rush, Simmons, Smith, of Anson, Spencer, of Hyde, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Thompson, Walkup, Ward, Warren, Willey, Williams, Wilson, Winburne, Winston and Wright.—81.

The question recurring or the passage of the ordinance on its second reading, Mr. Furches moved to amend by striking out all between the words "debt" and "unless," and inserting the words "or imposing any tax upon the people of the State." (Requiring that Revenue bills should be passed by like votes as appropriations of public moneys, the yeas and nays being had in each House upon each reading.) Adopted.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, moved to amend by inserting between the words "each" and "reading" the words "second and third." Adopted.

(The effect of this amendment is to require the recording of the yeas and nays upon the second and third readings only of Revenue bills and bills appropriating money.)

The ordinance passed its second reading.

Mr. King moved a suspension of the rules that the ordinance might have its third reading.

Mr. Moore, of Wake, and Mr. Grissom opposed a suspension of the rules.

On motion of Mr. Logan, the ordinance was referred to the Committee on Constitutional amendments.

An ordinance to amend the charter of the Governor's Creek Steam Transportation and Mining Company passed its second reading, and was referred to the Committee on Finance.

An ordinance providing for the election of a Lieutenant Governor of the State passed its second reading and was referred to the Committee on the Revisal of the Constitution.

An ordinance to prohibit the General Assembly from conferring any appointments upon its members was read a second time and referred to the Committee on Constitutional amendments.

A resolution that the Convention will act only upon questions of Constitutional reform and recommendations of the Governor was laid on the table, on motion of Mr. Grissom.

On motion of Mr. Polk, the yeas and nays were ordered. The vote stood as follows:

YEAS: Messrs. Adams, Baines, Baker, Beam, Bell, Berry, Bingham, Brickell, Brown, Brooks, Bryan, Buxton, Bynum, Caldwell, of Burke, Caldwell, of Guilford, Dick, Dickey, Ellis, Faircloth, Faulkner, Gahagan, Garland, Garrett, Gilliam, Godwin, Grissom, Harris, of R. Harris, of G. Harrison, Haynes, Henry, Hodge, Jackson, Jones, of Davidson, Jones, of Henderson, Jones, of Rowan, Joyce, King, Lash, Logan, Love, of Chatham, Love, of Jackson, Lyon, McCauley, McDonald, of Chatham, McDonald, of Moore, McGeehee, McIvor, McLaughlin, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Wake, Odom, Patterson, Perkins, Pool, Russell, Rush, Sloan, Smith of Johnston, Smith, of Wilkes, Spencer, of Montgomery, Starbuck, Stephenson, Stewart, Swan, Thompson, Ward, Warren and Wiliam[illegible]—88.

NAYS.—Messrs. Alexander, Allen, Bagley, Barrow, Bradley, Burgin, Clark, Dockery, Eaton, Ferebee, Futches, Jarvis, Johnston, Joyner, McCorkle, McKoy, of Sampson, McKay, of Harnett, N. A. McLean, McRae, Mebane, Murphy, Pearsall, Person, Polk, Richardson, Satterthwaite, Simmons, Smith, of Anson, Spencer, of Hyde, Walkup, Wiley, Wilson, Winburne, Winston and Wright.—36.

Resolutions in relation to a restoration of the State to the Federal Union, were read a second time.

On motion of Mr. Henry, they were ordered to be printed and were made the special order for 12 o'clock M. on Friday next.

A resolution to change the manner of settling with Executors and Administrators, (introduced by Mr. McLaughlin,) was read and rejected.

A resolution (introduced by Mr. Polk) was read and rejected.

An ordinance in relation to debts created by the several counties of the State, in aid of the rebellion, was read and referred to the Committee on the War Debt.

An ordinance in relation to the election of Clerks, Sheriffs, &c., was put on its second reading. Its passage was urged by Mr. Grissom, and opposed by Messrs. Caldwell, of Guilford, Dick and Furches.

Mr. Clark moved to lay the ordinance on the table, which motion prevailed, yeas 85, nays 18.

Mr. Rumley introduced the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The Almighty has been pleased, since our adjournment in October last, to remove from this world Walter S. Hanrahan, of the county of Pitt, Thomas I. Faison, of the county of Sampson, Isaac N. Sanders, of the county of Onslow, and Rev. David B. Nicholson, of the county of Duplin, who were members of this body:

Resolved, That this Convention records, with sorrow, the death of these worthy members as a loss to the Convention and the State, and as a testimonial of respect for their memory, orders that this preamble and resolution be entered upon the Journals of the Convention, and that a copy thereof be transmitted by the Principal Secretary to the family of each of the deceased.

Appropriate and feeling tributes to the memories of the deceased were made by Messrs. Perkins, Satterthwaite, McKoy, of Sampson, Pearsall, Richardson and Bingham.

The resolutions were then unanimously adopted, and, on motion of Mr. Satterthwaite, the Convention adjourned until 10 o'clock, to-morrow.

[The Reporter would state for Mr. Rumley, that a concluding resolution, adjourning the Convention in respect to the memory of the deceased, was inadvertently omitted.

In offering the resolution, Mr. Rumley also regretted the absence of Mr. Foy, of Duplin, (detained at his room by sickness,) who would doubtless have paid a merited tribute to the memory of his predecessor, Mr. Sanders. He was authorized to express Mr. Foy's hearty concurrence in the sentiments embodied in the resolutions.]

Washington News.

THE CAUCUS YESTERDAY.

[From the Star of Saturday.]

The Republican Senators held a caucus of some hours yesterday, in which the question of reconstruction and the time for an adjournment of Congress were discussed.

The sentiment of the caucus was unanimously against the third section of the reconstruction measures; at least no voice was raised in its behalf.

Various substitutes for the third section were discussed; but the proposition most favored was one excluding from holding Federal office those who deserted the United States Congress and army and navy to take part in the rebellion; also, the members of the Confederate Congress, the Confederate Cabinet, Confederate diplomatic agents, Confederate military officers of the rank of Major General and Brigadier General, and Confederate naval officers of the higher grade, &c.

It was claimed that the reconstruction measures modified in some such manner, could be passed in the Senate by the requisite two-thirds vote, and something to spare.

Concerning an adjournment, the current feeling seemed to be in favor of remaining in session till the middle of July, unless the leading business of Congress is sooner disposed of.

TRIAL OF MR. DAVIS.

The paragraph going the rounds of the newspapers under the authority of "it is stated," setting forth that a new indictment against Jefferson Davis has been drawn up in the Attorney General's Office since Mr. Speed's return to Washington, and that Judge Underwood's indictment will be withdrawn and the new one substituted, we have the best authority for saying is incorrect. Although some change may be made in the indictment presented by the grand jury of Norfolk, there is no reason to believe that another will be substituted.

It has been stated that the trial of Mr. Davis will commence on the 1st of June at Richmond. We are satisfied that it will not be commenced for at least four months after the first of June. So much for rumors.

MRS. JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis called upon the President this evening and urged that orders be given looking to the greater physical comfort and better health of her husband. Mr. Johnson informed her that already an order had been issued giving Mr. Davis the freedom of the fort within its walls, and without constant attendance of guards upon his person by day. To the judgment of the surgeon in attendance would be submitted other questions of physical necessities. No order for removal to other position further North would yet be made. Mrs. Davis received numerous calls to-day from residents of this city who were acquainted with her in former years. She is yet the guest of Dr. Miller.

A new case of domestic scandal has just occurred in the prolific city of New York. Readers not so youthful as they have been will remember a lady who was very conspicuous (somewhat unenviably) during the administration of ANDREW JACKSON. We refer to Mrs. General EATON. For a long period she has resided in the city of New York, in the possession of abundant means, the center of a considerable circle, and the dispenser of a liberal hospitality. A few years ago, having attained the mature dignity of grand-motherhood, she surprised her friends and rustled the beau monde by marrying a skipping little Italian dancing master, named BUONGANANI, to whom she transferred not only her ripe attractions and tried affections, but her "worldly goods," as well, according to the solemn forms of the marriage ritual and the approved processes of law. How the current of domestic life has flowed since is not stated by the communicative journalists who are now relating that the stream has arrived at a precipice, and tumbled over. That is to say, the Italian dancing-master frisked away to Europe, without the knowledge or consent of the venerable signora, carrying with him the proceeds of her property, which he had secretly converted into money, and her grand-daughter, likewise, whom he had converted into something worse than money. This is the latest public sensation, to which Mrs. EATON has been a party. Some people are evidently born to be famous.

General Howard's attempt to whitewash the Freedmen's Bureau has greatly lowered that office in the President's estimation. It is reported that the President has requested him to resign, and will remove him if he does not resign. The President is determined that the outrages and abuses practiced by the officers and agents for the Bureau must cease.

The President has signed the bill to punish kidnapping. It provides that if any person shall kidnap, or carry away any other person, whether negro, mulatto, or otherwise, to be held as a slave, he or she shall be punished on conviction, by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than five thousand dollars, or by imprisonment for five years, or both.

General Wigfall, ex-Confederate Senator from Texas, is in London, and about starting out to lecture on the negro, beginning in the jungles in Africa and concluding with a review of his present position in America.

The Senate has reconsidered its refusal to confirm General Blair as revenue collector at St. Louis.

Dexter, the defaulting treasury agent at Mobile, has been discharged from custody, and the sentence of the military commission thus nullified.

THE CENTRAL DIRECTORY.

A TEXAN'S TESTIMONY.

Colonel Forshey before the Committee on Reconstruction.

[CONCLUDED.]

And, as the questions have led to this point, please to indulge me in reciting some of the evidence that my researches have furnished, that the negro has seen his best condition and will never flourish again.

Q. Certainly. Proceed. A. Our census takers furnish industrial and vital statistics from which there is no appeal. They show three points that I will state from memory.

1. The free blacks in the Northern States, in spite of the continual supplies from the South, decreased, in the last decennial period, nearly eight per cent. in numbers.

2. The free blacks of the Southern States increased about as much, making a difference of sixteen per cent., while

3. The slave black by his side increased twenty-four per cent. in numbers.

Taking, then, the axiom of political science, that the reproductiveness of a people is the most unfailing evidence of their social condition, the slave black has been in a better condition than any other people, white or black, on this continent. It is to this conclusion that you may impute our tenacity in defending the system. Our experience had taught us how to consult the best interest of both races, and we found them in precise harmony; believed the blacks were designed by Providence as a supplement to the white race, and that to this institution, in part, we owed the higher civilization we claimed.

Q. Please define what you mean by "higher civilization?" A. The pride of character, the chivalrous tone and the liberality and hospitalities of our people; the broad views and great genius of our public men; the delicacy, modesty, refinement, and yet the lofty spirit of our women. We had a society without gossip, envy or fanaticism; a population of millions without beggars or paupers. Whether this was higher civilization, is matter of opinion. Certainly it had a different type, and one which would not longer harmonize with yours; and hence the necessity, as we believed, of separation.

Q. Then you were a secessionist originally? A. No, I was a revolutionist, and this merged, in my view, all minor questions of State right to secede. The right of a people to change their rulers and their form of government was questionable only with tyrants, and such I was ready to resist, from the date of Mr. Lincoln's election.

Q. Was this the general view of Texans, or were there many who opposed it?

A. There were many who voted against secession, but a large majority for it. I do not remember the difference. But after the vote was taken and the result declared, the people were nearly a unit in support of the measure.

Q. There were then not many loyal people in Texas? A. They were almost unanimously loyal—that is, to their government. A few men of influence and character left the State under the influence of the President's proclamation, giving forty days for departure; and a few men who had wielded influence remained, utterly without influence, but opposed, as was understood, to the Government.

Q. Were such persons safe?

A. Not entirely so. An expression of their opposition would have endangered the best of them. They received such epithets as Southern sympathizers in your Northern States, but were not so generally punished. Some were arrested.

Q. Were many put to death?

A. None that I know of. It was stated that, on the frontier, some were hung. I was not in service in that quarter, and such obituaries were not likely to be published.

Q. Are they safe now in returning? A. Many have returned, and I believe all are unmolested. Generally they are not much respected. Some are now in the Convention.—One is Governor.

Q. What portion of the Convention are known as Union men? A. I am not informed. I have seen a statement that eleven were what we term Radicals.

Q. What will your Convention probably do? A. I believe they will acquiesce in all that has been prescribed to States re-organizing, viz: the abolition of slavery by the Government of the United States; the surrender of secession; the repudiation of the Confederate debt, and the recognition of civil rights in the late slave.

Q. Will the people of Texas probably prepare for the enfranchisement of the negro, or such of them as may meet certain qualifications of property and intelligence? A. Never, as I believe. They hold to a distinction of race that they have a repugnance to compromise. They do not believe in the capacity of the negro for republican citizenship, and if they did, will not consent to affiliate with him. In this they are probably as stubborn as the people of the North, who, like them, feel the repugnance of race that God has planted in our instincts.

Q. You stated in a former part of your testimony that the census tables exhibit a great disparity in the reproductive power of the negro in freedom and slavery. Please state to the committee how you account for the difference? A. The difference between the free blacks, North and South, is chiefly due to climate, I believe; the tropics being the native clime of the negro. But it may be partially due to the readiness with which all destitution is relieved at the South. As before, we have no poorhouses and no beggars. The difference between the free and slave blacks is chiefly due to two special causes. The care we take of infants, and the protection of the marriage relation in slavery. The discipline and police of the plantation enforces faithfulness in husband and wife, and secures, as a consequence, the prolificacy of families. There is little continence in the race, free or slave, and no pride of chastity. This is recognized almost universally, by those who know them well by close observation. Negro mothers are proverbially reckless of, and cruel to, their offspring. Blacks, whether infant or adult, have little of the vital force to resist disease that whites have. When they get sick, unless well cared for, they die.—The owner's interest in his slave (and possibly a little sense of duty and humanity) prompts him to take care of every life. Nurseries are established on plantations, supervised by the doctor and the mistress, that save the lives of infants. The mother only comes to nurse her child, and is too happy to be rid of further care. She has little of the affection for her young that characterizes white mothers, or many of the lower animals. Her devotion to the children of her mistress is often far greater than to her own.—These facts will explain why the negroes lately emancipated are dying so fearfully. They have to thank the emancipator for taking the life of one of every four, in this brief time; and the process will continue, in spite of Faneuil and Exeter Halls, Civil Rights bills and Freedman's Bureau. Even the luxury of voting would not save the race from the doom of freedom and death.

Q. Has the mortality been so great as represented? A. I believe it has never been exaggerated. I have seen it estimated at one-fourth the whole number, and do not think it too great a figure. Had slavery given as many stripes, all christendom would have been horrified. Emancipation, black with its million graves, gets only pæons of praise the world over. Time and history will, we believe, change the song, despite the hurried records and willing testimony of the Lossings, the Abbotts, and the Brancrofts.

Q. Is the good order you represent in the Southern States the result of total abandonment of the struggle, or is it from the temporary necessity of quiet? Would the struggle be willingly resumed? A. Permit me to explain in reply to these queries. There is no intention anywhere to renew the contest. When we surrendered and were paroled, we did so in good faith, and will keep our parole as long as the conditions are fulfilled. To doubt this, is to mistake entirely the Southern character. When they surrendered they gave it up; and any doubt of their good faith is offensive, so much so that, personally, they will resent it. They surrendered as men, as your equals upon honorable terms, and will keep faith to the letter, and fight those that doubt it.

Q. What did they give up? A. Their arms and the question at stake.

Q. What were those questions, as you understood them? A. The right to a separate nationality and independence, on our part. A central government, ignoring State rights, and the destruction of slavery, on the part of the United States.

Q. You speak of the terms of submission.—What terms do you mean? A. Those stipulated in actual surrender, of protection in person and property, so long as we should obey the laws; and those submitted by the President of the United States in his proclamations, and plan of reorganization. Thus far we have endeavored to comply with all requirements, reasonable and oppressive, and held our peace, lest complaints might be misconstrued into disloyalty, as they have been elsewhere.

Q. Is the present feeling the same as heretofore?

A. I think not. The return of good feeling has been greatly repressed, I think, by the rejection of members from States already reorganized. There seems to be a suspicion of bad faith, and a fear that they have been decoyed into the steps they have taken; and much apprehension. And should this be continued after the Texas Representatives go there, there will be, I fear, a great revulsion of feeling.

Q. What will they do in that case?

A. I cannot answer. They cannot resort to arms, because they have surrendered them.—They are tired of war and utterly broken in fortunes. But they are not without the spirit that feels indignation at broken faith and continued oppression.

Q. In case of a war with any other power how would your people act?

A. I cannot answer directly. Should they not be admitted into the Union, as expected, they certainly would not feel called upon to resist the enemy. If admitted they want peace above all things, and would not unite in an aggressive war upon Mexico, Canada, Cuba, or any other nation. In case of invasion sweeping over them, they would resist and do their whole duty, as they have heretofore done in two wars. But they desire peace above all things, and take very little interest in politics. They have gone to work to mend their fortunes, and are determined to prosper, whatever the political condition of the country. They believe that the Northern States have possession of the government, and are determined at all hazards to keep it. They therefore look to the support of their families, and are indifferent about general politics. So long as they can make a living, in spite of the tax-collector, they may be quiet.—But if the State should be rejected, as the others have been, I should rather have any other office than tax-gatherer. Taxation without representation is tyranny, and they will so regard it, in my judgment.

Q. Do they expect admission at once to representation, and will they elect loyal men to Congress?

A. If by loyal men, you mean such as could take the test oath or iron-clad as they term it, they would not, generally. We have not respectable material for that purpose, if so disposed. One or two men, such as Judge Hancock and Judge Evans, who have been spoken of for the Senate, and who have preserved their integrity and respect for their people, though disagreeing with them in the matter of secession, might be elected as a compromise; but they understand an election as giving them a choice, and they could not choose the men they have been fighting, and who have aided in their subjugation. Certainly they expect admission on reorganization, as a part of the bond, but will not be greatly disappointed at a rejection, common to the other States. If they are re-admitted, they will deem it but in accordance with the plan they accepted in good faith. If not, there are many who will say, "that is just what we said before; we are out of the Union;" and many would be very glad of the result, if it could be done with peace; perhaps three-fourths of the State. But they all desire peace above all things, and will do nothing to provoke further trouble. This they have amply proved by submitting to much unreasonable exaction as they think. The best, and I think the only method of staying the ebb tide of good feeling, would be at once to withdraw all troops from among the people of the South, except at the coast and frontier garrisons; to disband the entire negro force; to abolish every vestige of the Freedmen's Bureau, and to admit the representatives of the revolutionary States, upon the single condition of their taking the oath required by the Constitution. Time will doubtless, in this case, assuage feelings that have been too intensely enlisted to subside at once.

SENATE.—Nothing done.

HOUSE—A resolution was adopted, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to report the amount of gold sold since the 1st. inst., at what rates, and the agents employed therefor.

Mr. Williams submitted a preamble and resolutions, requesting information from the President whether any employees of the Government in the Southern States have offered public honors to dead or living Confederates. Mr. Nicholson objected, and the resolution lies over.

Stevens introduced a bill, declaring that the States lately in rebellion have forfeited their rights under the Constitution, and can be re-instated in the same only through the action of Congress. It provides that they may form valid governments,—the present ones being continued for municipal purposes, until they shall be duly altered and their Executives and Legislatures recognised. Constitutions are to be formed by Conventions and submitted to the people,—a majority of whom shall be necessary for ratification, and all male persons above 21 years of age to vote. No constitution is to be presented for Congressional sanction, which denies civil rights to any persons. The bill was committed to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union.

Stevens also offered a resolution, instructing the Committee to report a system of Pensions for Federal soldiers in the civil war.

Stillwell offered a resolution, directing the Committee to report a bill extending the provisions of the pension laws to Provost and Deputy Marshals, enrolling officers killed or disabled, &c.

Whaley offered a resolution directing the Committee on Printing to report a bill limiting hours of labor in the government office to eight. Rejected.

Mr. Lynch, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, reported adversely on the exemption of the currency of State banks outstanding on the 1st of July from the tax of 10 per cent. imposed by law. Laid on the table.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite with from one to two of his exordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the old-fogy nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the so called remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the pills that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspepic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 49 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

—READ.—

The undersigned, Agent of the ÆTNA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY for the State of North Carolina, would respectfully inform those who represent deceased friends, insured in this Company, to apply at my office for the settlement of Policies, as soon as they can do it satisfactorily and conveniently to do so.

MR. JUSTUS KINSEY'S death has been announced in our community. He was one of our most worthy citizens and active business men, and took the precaution, in time, to provide for his now sorrowing loved ones by an insurance on his life for $5,000 in the gallant "Ætna," which has never refused to pay a loss promptly. And in this case, the persons entitled to receive the amount will please present themselves and the policy at my office for payment.

Here we are furnished with an example of prudent forethought, worthy of imitation by each and all who have hearts to love, and hands to provide for their dependent loved ones. The investment of $150 has provided

No man should neglect a transaction so important.

WARREN, N. C.,

WHITE SULPHUR AND CHALYBEATE SPRINGS.

THE UNDERSIGNED has the satisfaction of announcing to the public, that he has leased these celebrated Springs, and that they will be opened for the reception of visitors on the first day of June ensuing.

His arrangements are of that complete and extensive character, that he will be able to accommodate a large number of guests and to offer greater attractions than usual to those who may visit

This pleasant and healthful resort.

No trouble or expense will be spared to render his patrons comfortable and satisfied.

The grounds are elegantly laid off, and the buildings are enlarged and improved.

He will have ICE, MILK, VEGETABLES, and all the substantials and delicacies of the table in profusion.

An ICE CREAM SALOON and SODA FOUNTAIN will be attached to the establishment, where those refreshments, as well as CONFECTIONERY, Fruits &c., can be always obtained.

The bar will be supplied with the finest liquors, and a billiard saloon and bowling alley, for amusement and exercise, be at the disposal of visitors.

The Medicinal Properties

Of the Sulphur water have been amply tested during many years by a large number of visitors, and its beneficial results strikingly displayed in the cure or relief of

Another Spring has been discovered in the vicinity of the establishment, an accurate scientific analysis of which [given below] proves that it is a valuable Chalybeate. It is a mild and gentle tonic, and in the opinion of the physicians who have examined it, and witnessed its effects in some cases during several seasons, must prove beneficial in Atonic Dyspepsia Chlorosis, Uterine, Nervous and Neuralgic Affections connected with Debility; and of especial service to persons living in malarious regions of country, whose blood has been robbed of its normal proportion of iron by repeated attacks of malarial fevers.

Persons travelling on the Raleigh and Gaston Railroad will always find a line of stages, under the management of Mr. Granger, ready for their accommodation at Warrenton Depot. There will be a daily mail from Warrenton to the Springs.
